SEARCH FOR SLAYER OF PROHI FAILS

'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND

Thousands of office workers all over the country today are trying to figure out where they will spend their vacation.

Two glorious weeks of being free from worry and responsibility — two glorious weeks of not having to get up early in the morning.

And with the start of the vacation season the tin can tourists will start.

Here they come down the highway in a 1918 Ford touring, with the back end of the top out, the fenders rusted and one headlight broken.

Tsere's papa in the front seat with little Johnnie and little Ethel, who are dirty-faced, tired and quarrelsome.

In the back, wedged in between the camp stove, the bedding and the groceries is mamma, tired and bickering.

Perched upon the top of a roll of impedimenta is the family pooch regarding the dogs who walk upon the earth as poor Babbies who have never felt the broadening effects of travel.

And on one side of the car the running board almost touches the pavement under its load of, for lack of a better word, well said, junk.

And the motor is howling and two new rattles have just been discovered.

Mamma is sure that papa is on the wrong road, and papa is just as sure that he isn't.

Sometimes, mamma is right and there's a chorus of "I told you so's" from the rear of the car and deep, heavy thinking, cussing silence from behind the wheel.

And when papa is right he does the crowing, taking sly digs at some people who are afraid to turn a corner. And Mamma is silent for the time being.

And then there is a flat tire. Everything is moved from the car before the tire is fixed.

And then it rains—rains cats and dogs or what have you.

And at night when they stop to camp at a public dumping grounds called an auto camp where they pay a dollar for the privilege of propping up the car and their tent, sand gets into the food, bugs frighten little Ethel and little Johnnie falls into the well.

Two weeks later they get home, tired, dirty, worn, disgusted and bitter — almost cynical. Mamma and Papa reflect that the next time they go on an auto trip you'll hear about it.

And the next day they boast to the neighbors about their beautiful trip.

People are like that.

LOCAL BOYS AT Y CAMP ENJOY SELVES

CAMP PIONEER, Russian River, June 10.—With the first day of camp life at an end, the campers have settled down into the routine of camping.

The program for camp was outlined by Reynold Carlson, camp director, at last night's camp fire. The boys awake from their out-of-doors slumber each morning at 6:30 and perform calisthenics in the cold, cold morning air. They then take their dip in the still more frigid waters of the Russian river.

The first major event of the day's program is breakfast, which is followed by Bible study held under the direction of tent leaders. Camp inspection is held at 10 o'clock when the four tents vie for the honor of seeing the honor banner for the best kept locality pinned on their ridge pole.

Inspection is followed by special nature or first aid classes from 10 o'clock to 11. According to Carlson, attempts are being made to organize several other classes of a different type.

The recreation part of the day's activities begins at 11 o'clock when the first swim is held. Dinner follows. In the afternoon, siesta, games, swimming, hiking and fishing follow in rapid succession.

The full day's program is concluded by the campfire in the evening. Taps are blown at 9:30 o'clock.

The first camp fire of camp was built last night by tent 2, or "The Jug." In the light of the dying embers, E. George Harlow, devotion director, spoke to the boys on the aim of Y. M. C. A. camp.

The election of camp officers will be held this evening at camp fire. 3 KILLED IN RIOT

BOMBAY, India, June 10.—UP—Fatal Hindu-Muslim riots in two cities and a police raid on the national congress office at Calcutta, kept interest in the Indian independence movement at a high pitch today.

The religious riots were symptomatic of communal differences mentioned in the report of Sir John Simon's investigation commission. The report, made public here and in London last night caused disappointment among the Indian independence leaders. In it no status for their country was made.

Celebration of the Mohurram festival by a sect of Mohammedans caused the riots. Three were killed and more than 20 injured when police fired on the fighting factions at the village of Vellore, 80 miles from Madras. The trouble started when the Muslims played music near a Hindu temple. They refused to disperse and a fight followed in which the Hindus were severely beaten. Both sides used sticks as weapons. Police dispersed the rioters with buckshot.

Two persons were killed and 40 injured when police fired on similar rioters in front of a temple at Thottapalayam, near Madras, Sunday.

The raid at Calcutta was similar to the two previous raids on the congress volunteer headquarters here. Police arrested 85 independence workers and seized a number of documents.

KILLER HIDES IN TIMBER BELIEF

ALTURAS, June 10.—UP—Members of the posse searching for Rodney Selby, 35, who has been charged with the fatal shooting of Albert Brown, federal prohibition agent began to return here tonight, after a futile hunt that has lasted 24 hours, and asked relief.

Seventy men who have been banded together to trail the slayer of the prohibition agent turn the desolate regions of Modoc county had found no clues. They said that in the rocks and timber, a man could walk for many miles without leaving tracks.

Selby was a mountain man, and used to living outdoors. Col. William Thompson, a leader of the posse, estimated he could live for months hidden in the timber.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict late today that Brown had met death from gunshot wounds "inflicted by Rodney Selby with homicidal intent."

Selby's mother, held as a material witness, was a witness at the inquest. Mrs. Selby, 65, polite and genteel in actions, told the jury she could not stand questions much longer. She said she was present when the shooting occurred, and everything happened fast. She testified that she thought either Brown or Robert A. Davis, another agent who was wounded, must have fired first.

Federal and county authorities agreed at a conference that Selby would be turned over to the county courts in case he is captured.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—UP—The San Francisco board of supervisors prepared to meet tomorrow evening to consider charges made in a letter from Frank C. MacDonald, president of the State Building Trades Council, that "false economy" was responsible for the disaster which took seven lives yesterday in an explosion in the Calveras tunnel near Sunol.

MacDonald, who based his accusations that "dollars were placed above human life" on the story told by Richard Lamont, sole survivor of the tragedy, drew the conclusion from Lamont's story that improved safety devices were not used on the construction project.

Had new gas warning torches been used, MacDonald stated, the men would have had several minutes warning that there was gas present in the mine.

SOLONS DEFEAT OAKS IN FIRST NIGHT GAME

SACRAMENTO, June 10.—UP—Before a crowd of 12,000 persons, night baseball made its entrance into the Pacific Coast league here tonight and the league leading Sacramento Senators benefitted by the experiment by trouncing Oakland, 8 to 0.

Playing under a battery of electric lights that made the field bright, the Senators jumped into the lead with five runs in the fourth inning and built their total up in later innings.

Bryan was on the mound for Sacramento and held the Oaks to five hits. There were only two errors, both made by Oakland.

The lighting system was declared excellent. Not a shadow could be seen on the diamond and many times Sacramento outfielders backed up against the wall to catch high flies hit by Oakland batters.

Gov. C. C. Young was the first to demonstrate the success of the venture going to bat during pregame festivities and pounding out a hit.

Experts said they believed the errors made by Oakland would have occurred as easily in the day time.

Fans went wild over the home team's victory but between innings enjoyed "wise cracking" with such remarks as "game can't be called on account of darkness" and "if anyone starts throwing pop bottles at the umpire they can turn out the lights and he's safe."

Bank Fails In Million Dollar Embezzlement

CINCINNATI, O., June 10.—UP

A. W. Shafer, 36-year old, $75 a week district sales manager here for Henry L. Doherty & Co. charged with embezzlement was out on bail tonight while authorities checked over his trail of alleged defalcations which may amount to $1,500,000 and which caused a local bank to close.

While anxious depositors milled about the closed doors of the Commercial Bank & Trust company, through which Shafer is alleged to have handled his manipulations, he was arraigned on the specific charge of embezzling $10,162.50 and released on bond posted by his moderately wealthy father, O. J. Shafer, president of the Shafer Pattern Works.

Authorities blamed his alleged defalcations on stock market operations. Bank examiners, who are trying to learn from the ledgers and books the full scope of shortages both in the Doherty office and bank, said preliminary examination indicated the shortages might amount to $1,500,000, of which the bank was involved to the extent of $550,000.

"It is an open and shut case of embezzlement and misconduct," said Assistant County Attorney Dudley Outcalt, in charge of the investigation. "Shafer's office is in the worst mess imaginable. He did everything that could be done to raise money. He took money and securities and he cashed checks both good and bad."

Shafer's alleged operations were brought to light when customers complained that they had not received delivery on stocks they had purchased.

Both the bank and the Doherty company are protected by indemnity bonds but whether the bonds will be sufficient to cover the alleged shortage could not be learned.

THE DIVORCEE NEW SLANT ON MARRIAGE

The so-called divorce problem has had many expositions at the hands of dramatists and scenarists, but perhaps never before from the amazing viewpoint of "The Divorcee," Norma Shearer's new Metro-Goldwyn Mayer talking vehicle which opened last night at the Fox-California theater.

Remaining distinctly human, with no tinge of the academic, the picture casts a new light on modern divorce, and, incidentally, affords Miss Shearer one of the most startling, as well as the most charming roles of her career.

She plays the role of a woman who, convinced of her husband's lapses into error, herself admits promiscuous living to meet him on a common ground. Follows the divorce, and finally the surprising denouement in which a powerful dramatic climax shows up divorce from a new sociological aspect.

Chester Morris plays opposite Miss Shearer and gives an intensely human characterization as the husband, Robert Montgomery and Conrad Nagel, as the divorcee's lovers, play their roles with deft artistry. The intelligent direction of Robert Z. Leonard is apparent in every scene.

Included in the supporting players, adequately cast in interesting parts, are Zella Sears, Tyler Brooke, Mary Doran, Florence Eldridge, Helene Millard, George Irving and Helen Johnson.

Also on the program is a Lau and Hardy comedy entitled "The Brats."

ARIZONA KID FEATURES BAXTER

Remarkable photography of one of the West's finest scenic areas, a story of unsurpassed action and realism, the noted Warner Baxter in his greatest "bandit" role, a splendid supporting cast and unusual direction all feature "The Arizona Kid," the talkie sensation to open at the Fox-California theater tomorrow.

Where previous Western talkies have had the various interior scenes filmed at the studio after shooting the outdoor sequences, Director Alfred Santell made every foot of film on the exact location of the story—a little town on the southern edge of Zion national park, Utah. The abandoned "ghost city" of Grafton, washed away by a flood in 1882, was rebuilt by Fox-Movietone experts into an exact replica of the town as it was in the Eighties. Several carloads of gasoline-electric generators and lights were shipped to the nearest railroad point, 90 miles away, and trucked to the location to provide illumination for the interior scenes filmed inside the reconstructed buildings themselves, thus achieving a realism impossible under old methods.

Mona Maris, the Argentine beauty who created such a sensation with Baxter in "Romance of Rio Grande" is again seen as his leading lady in this production. Other important roles in the picture are enacted by Carol Lombard and Mrs. Jiminez.

Rosary Held For Alice H. Lexon

In memory of the late Alice Lexon, 20 year old Pullman girl who died at a local hospital recently, rosary was said at the Ryan Funeral home last night. Scandals

SALLY O'NEIL, who is the star in Broadway Scandals which ends today at the Richmond theater.

SALLY O'NEIL WINS PRAISE OF CRITICS

The ability to judge the worth of an untold actor is rare. In fact it is rare that such men as David Belasco, Florenz Zeigfeld, Mack Sennett and a few others who possess it are acquainted with the theatrical world.

According to many, Harry John, vice-president in charge of production of Columbia Pictures corporation, possesses this ability to pick winners in no uncertain degree. His reaction to Sally O'Neil the first time he saw her is a typical example of his insight. Miss O'Neil, who plays the leading female role in "Broadway Scandals," the Columbia all talking, singing dancing musical comedy sensation which closes tonight at the Richmond theater told a story that is just one of the many proofs of the above opinion.

"I was lunching at the Ambassador," she said, "soon after my first arrival in Hollywood four years ago. At that time I had never thought seriously of entering pictures. I was, in fact on a vacation from school and had come out to visit my brothers, who were attending the University of Southern California.

"It happened that Harry Cohn sat at a table near me in the dining room. At that time I did not know who he was, but was conscious that his attention was centered on me. The idea that he was a producer never dawned on me. I knew practically no one in the picture business but Marshall Neilan, who I had met socially. Imagine my amazement when, later, in the lobby, a mutual friend introduced Mr. Cohn and he offered me a contract if I would come to his studio the next day."

That Cohn's judgment was good, is proved beyond a doubt by Sally O'Neil's sensational success.

Night and Morning to keep them Clean, Clear and Healthy

Murine Co., Dept. H. S., 9 E. Ohio St., Chicago

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

This story is based on Warner Bros. Vitaphone production of the play by Otto Harbach and Oscar Hammerstein II.

SYNOPSIS
Fair-skinned Dawn, mystery girl, is about to be burned alive by the infuriated black tribe occupying the British Protectorate in East Africa. As the mystic wife of the black god Malungu, she failed to produce rain. Her sweetheart, Tom Allen, has gone to Mombasa, to get help while she is not black, but as white as himself. Meanwhile, Shep Keyes, whip man and bully upon her, after inciting them to plan her death, double crosses and offers her his aid in escape, if she will run off to the jungles with him. Tom reaches a lair in Mombasa just as an old man, Dawn's father, has stabbed Mombasa's reputed black mother.

INSTALLMENT THIRTY-FIVE
"You think," hazarded Duke, "they changed the place of the—"
"Hurry," repeated Tom impatiently. "Explain to Colonel Judd as the help he can send."

The two darted off down the trail. Grimly Tom set off for the place of his last rendezvous with Dawn. Either she lived or they both died. Cheerfully he would offer his own in a gamble for hers.

From a distance there came to Dawn, crouching alone in the cavern of the Temple of Malungu, the insistent drumming of the tom-toms.

Above, restrained by her gag to utter a cry for help or to protest at the weird carnival attending her execution, Dawn writhed in agony. She noticed Shep, his evil eyes upon her. A few paces behind the whip man was the Maid, his eyes fixed on him. The blood turned the blacks was expressed in their repeated shouts, piercing maniacal shouts. Forsworn to the duty of completing the rites according to prescription, Hasmall had difficulty restraining them from hastening the sacrifice. Repeatedly he warned the torchmen back and ordered the tom-tom players to sound a maddened beat.

When, flinging himself into the energetic dance, Shep placed the pyre between himself and Hasmall, he called to Dawn. She gazed down at him.

"Even now, Dawn," he said in a loud whisper, "Shep Keyes will save you if you nod your head."

As Dawn, remaining motionless, looked calmly at Shep's lighted torch, he was conscious of a hiss behind him. He turned to encounter the infuriated eyes of the Maid of Malungu.

"You conspire with the false bridle," she charged. "You die too."

Shep sneered at her. "Thabbi," he said, "Maybe you want to

NEW POWERS GAINED BY KING CAROL

BUCHAREST, June 10.—UP—Friends of King Carol II, moved steadily today to consolidate him in the power he assumed by a whirlwind maneuver over the week-end.

Wedge after wedge was driven into the ranks of the liberal party—the only faction which objected to Carol's return from Paris and his ascension to the throne. The party, hitherto a strong combination of really conservative forces throughout the country, apparently was split between the followers of Vintila Bratnanu and his nephew George.

Harassed on account of his opposition to Carol, the elder Bratnanu tried three times today to resign his party leadership, but failed because the executive council felt such action would harm the party's authority.

Ousted From Party. George Bratnanu, though a university professor and unskilled in politics as compared with his famous uncle, led the forces favoring Carol as King. Ousted from the party yesterday, he rallied all liberal organizations in Transylvania to his support. A report circulated late in the day that the liberals as a whole had decided to swing to Carol's aid, but this was denied tonight by George. He said, however, he believed the party eventually would vindicate him in his stand.

Carol, while benefitting by the activity of his friends, moved cautiously in both the political and domestic fields. It was announced that his coronation, probably would be delayed a year, during which time he apparently hoped to win Princess Helene to a renewal of their married life, by annulling her divorce.

The passage of 48 hours without selection of a new cabinet caused rumors of many kinds, but Carol was still represented as hoping he could form a "national union" ministry without dissolving parliament and calling for new elections.

He consulted politicians again today, including General Averescu, leader of the People's party, and Dr. N. Luj, a peasant party leader. He decided to hold further conference tomorrow with Dr. Julius Maniu who helped to engineer his victorious return from France. The general belief was that Dr. Maniu would figure largely in the new cabinet, with his old foe, Vintila Bratnanu.

Queen To Return. On the domestic side, Carol was believed to be making progress. The greatest pressure was being brought on both him and the

All Chicago Aroused By Scribe Death

CHICAGO, June 10.—UP—Another determined anti-crime drive swung into full action in Chicago tonight to capture the left-handed, silk-gloved gangster who assassinated a star reporter for the Chicago Tribune.

Almost the whole police department was concentrated on the hunt for the slayer of Alfred Lingle, the police reporter whose chief assignment was the investigation of underworld murders.

Rewards totaling $40,000 were posted by the Tribune, the Evening Post and the Press club for the assassin who tossed the only clues, a left-hand silk glove and a stubby pistol on the sidewalk after he had sent two bullets into Lingle's body in the subway leading to the Loop station of a suburban railroad.

Identify Known. Patrick Roche, chief investigator for the state's attorney's office said he was positive he knew the identity of the slayer, a professional killer known in gangland haunts for his left-handed prowess with revolvers, machine guns and bombs. Roche said the murderer undoubtedly used the glove to prevent finger prints on the gun.

No slaying here since the St. Valentine's Day massacre of seven gangsters in 1929 brought such pressure to bear upon the police department as did Lingle's killing.

Newspapers were almost unanimous in characterizing the murder as a gangland attempt to stifle the press.

Shakenp Seen. Police Commissioner William E. Russell, close personal friend of Lingle, announced an immediate shake-up of the force "to find a more effective way of fighting crime."

The "Secret Six" millionaire members of the association of Commerce organized to fight crime, turned over all of its investigators to the department to help unravel the mystery.

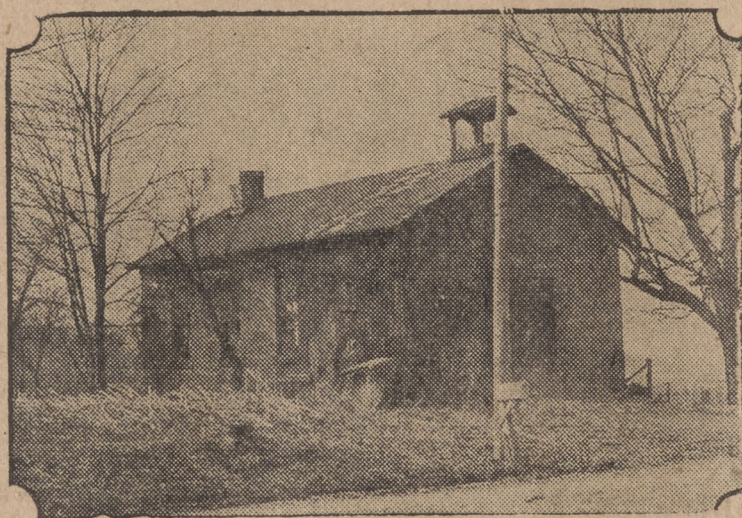

A coroner's jury convened, heard testimony of a few witnesses who saw the assassination, and then adjourned to give authorities time to round up more suspects.

Denizens of the underworld, hurriedly closed scores of speakeasies, gambling houses and kindred enterprises. It virtually was impossible tonight to buy a drink of liquor across a bar or even to place a bet on a horse with a bookmaker.

Princess Helene to annul the divorce obtained by the latter when he deserted her for Madame Magda Lupescu.

Carol's mother, Queen Marie, was planning to return here from Germany over the week-end. His sister, Princess Ileana, was already on the way from Egypt.

HOOVER HIT IN NAVY PACT PROBE

WASHINGTON, June 10.—UP—About 50 Senators had been placed on record tonight for or against immediate consideration of the London naval treaty with at least one round robin to expedite action still in circulation.

Senator Moses, Rep., N. H., said the group proposing delay until next autumn had between 20 and 30 signatures. The advocates of quick action had 24 or 25 and felt their efforts had effectively offset the anti-treaty group.

While the pro-treaty paper was circulated today, the Senate foreign relations committee decided to dissent from President Hoover's policy of withholding naval documents from the Senate. The committee does not question the president's right to refuse to produce state department files but is of the opinion they should have been produced in this instance.

Senator Black, Dem., Ala., introduced a resolution to that effect in the committee today but it was decided he, Chairman Borah and Moses should redraft it.

Members of the committee explained there would be no censure of Hoover but merely an expression of the committee's disagreement with his policy in this instance.

CANNON WILL FACE NEW PROBE

WASHINGTON, June 10.—UP—Three members of the Senate lobby committee discussed the Bishop Cannon episode today and disagreed. They will meet again tomorrow and the prospects that at least three of the five will favor and adopt a plan by Senator Walsh, Mont., to ask the Senate for additional authority to dig deeply into the Methodist bishop's 1928 anti-Smith campaign expenditures and activities.

An action which would prepare the way for further investigation of the $63,300 which E. C. Jameson, New York financier, contributed to Cannon's campaign against Governor Smith, was taken by the committee today in sending its investigator, John Holland, to New York for further information.

Chairman Caraway of the committee, and Senators Borah, Rep., Idaho, and Walsh, Dem., Mont. met unannounced in Borah's office today, and thereafter said no agreement was reached.

Borah, however, is understood to favor Walsh's project for asking for additional authority, and Senator Blaine, Rep., Wis., another member of the committee, is expected to follow Senator Robinson, Rep., Ind., is counted as a supporter of Bishop Cannon's stand.

Looks as though the wets and the dries will have to go to court to determine the custody of that modification child.

William Gough Installed As Eagle Head

William Gough was last night seated as worthy president of the Point Richmond Aerie of Eagles, at installation ceremonies held in Woodmen hall. John Ryan past worthy president of Pinole Aerie, acted as installing officer.

Other officers installed were: G. J. Regello, junior past president; Frank Lamble, vice-president; William McChristian, secretary; Otto Polombo, chaplain; B. C. Warrington, treasurer; Joe Poinelli, trustee; Fred Brazil, conductor and Gus Champaine, inside sentinel.

Considerable discussion was held on the grand aerie convention in San Francisco August 11 to 14. It was decided to send the local drum corps, 15 strong, to enter the parade August 14, and tentative plans were made to send a marching club of 50 men to the affair.

The Aerie has purchased ten new drums for the drum corps, which now brings the club up to 15 members.

Following the meeting last night, a banquet was served.

Blaine today blocked an attempt by Republican leaders to vote on the tariff bill tomorrow by pointing out it would conflict with the lobby committees' meeting on a very important subject, "one which vitally concerns the Senate."

RUBIO BAN AT L. A. DENIED

LOS ANGELES, June 10.—UP—After a conference between police officials and F. A. Pesqueria, Mexican consul in Los Angeles, it was denied tonight that President Pascual Ortiz Rubio of Mexico was warned not to come here on his recent tour of the United States because it was feared his life was in danger.

Assistant Chief Jack Finlayson and Pesqueria, as well as members of the police intelligence department entered the denials.

Finlayson said no warning had been sent President Rubio, while the intelligence members denied any political documents threatening the president had been seized by police here.

The Mexican consul said that a demonstration in front of the consulate about the time of the scheduled visit was caused by resentment of certain factions to the Mexican governments alleged hostile attitude toward Russia rather than a gesture against Rubio's safety.

According to dispatches from Mexico City, Luis Morones, leader of the Labor party, charged that Emilio Portes Gil, former president, was involved in the unsuccessful plot to assassinate Ortiz Rubio the day he was inaugurated. The dispatches said Morones declared threats of the plot reached Los Angeles and that President Rubio had not to include this city in his tour.

SLAIN MAN IDENTIFIED

LAS VEGAS, Nev., June 10.—UP—The body of a man found murdered at Romeroville, near here, on December 27, was definitely identified today as that of Benjamin Payton, who left Denver on December 20 for California.

The identification was made by Mrs. Lottie Payton, of Fort Collins, Colo., widow of the slain man.

She came to Las Vegas on the chance that the victim might have been her husband. She was shown a cap, shirt and necktie worn by the slain man and recognized them as her husband's.

The body was disinterred and positive identification was made by the widow.

She was unable to advance a theory as to the reason for her husband's murder.
